Join us for an Equinox gathering to tend the seedlings of Harmony between New Zealand and Canada celebrating Indigenous and Eastern teachings. Different nations, traditions and cultures are needed to be the medicine for our times. With Spring on Aotearoa and Fall on Turtle Island, we will learn from each other and share our common ground in song, dance, stories, meditation, and prayer.

Hosted by the Ottawa & Limestone Inayatiyya

Aziza Barker comes from English and Dutch settlers. She lives on lands of the Lipan Apache, Coahuiltecan and Carrizo Comecrudo Peoples along the Gulf Coast of Florida. Aziza was initiated into the Inayatiyya by Pir Vilayat Khan in 1982. A lover of movement expression and healing arts, Aziza leads sacred dances, yoga classes, yoga teacher trainings & therapeutic bodywork at her center Laguna Madre Yoga, Meditation & Dance Center.

Whaea Eila Paul is of Māori heritage, the Indigenous culture of Aotearoa (New Zealand). She works with people from all walks of life, weaving nature, storytelling, sound, ancient traditional songs, prayer, and dance together. Jamia Haqq is her name in the Ancient Sufi Inayatiyya tradition, which she has followed for 30 years. She currently travels with the Grandmothers of the Sacred We, a group of Wisdom Keepers whose message is: We are all related, we are all connected by the same source.

We'waskoney'egon Mu'izza Mizen is a Bird Clan descendant of Voyageur and Omamiwinini culture. Mu'izza served her community as a Mental Health and end of life Nurse sharing Mindfulness and Yoga in a medical setting for 30 years, bringing interfaith communities together through song, drum, and visual art. Apprenticed to the Bird Nation, Anishinaabe Elders and Inayatiyya Sufis, Mu'izza is an enthusiastic visionary of pathways returning to essential unity of the natural, human, and spiritual worlds. She is devoted to bridging cultures through Indigenous Healing, Love, Harmony, and Beauty.
